

The Heat Supply Company.

New life has been infused into the New Haven Heat Supply company. Several of the stockholders have put in additional capital and the company is now ready to make contracts for the supply of heat. They expect to have everything in readiness to turn steam into the pipes on the first cold day in September. This year the meter system will be done away with and buildings will be supplied by contract