

will take place Friday evening in alumni hall. The main floor of the big gymnasium will be given over to dancing to the melodies of Jerome's Blue Jackets, a ten-piece orchestra.

The recreation rooms and bowling alleys will also be opened for the occasion and student committees are making arrangements that promise to make the occasion the highlight of the fall entertainment program at the college. Invitations have been extended to former students and friends of the college and seminary.

The Halloween event is being sponsored by the college sophomores.

Randolph Hydraulic Co. Sale Is Approved

Special to the Free Press

MONTPELIER, Oct. 24.—The public service commission today gave its consent to the sale of all the assets, except cash, of Randolph Hydraulic company of Randolph Center, to Randolph fire district No. 1. Customers at the Center served by the water company have had an insufficient supply during dry seasons, and the fire district proposes to build a reservoir, and pump water to it from a spring which is the present source of supply.
